Now CFOs, controllers and corporate accountants can create a positive footprint in every organisation they are part of by learning how to adopt effective finance team better practices.

Why spend months on an annual planning process you know is flawed? Why spend precious time on an annual report recasting numbers that were available the first week of the new year? Why spend a week or two on the monthly finance report?

Author and performance management leader, David Parmenter, has collected practices from more than 4,000 corporate accountants from around the world covering all sectors. He has written an A-to-Z guide on what makes a ‘winning finance team’. The three editions of this work are:

These three separate half day workshops are a unique opportunity to access the better practices that David has unearthed in writing his third edition.

FINANCE TEAM FOCUS DAY

Session 1: Day 1: 8.45am to 12:30pm Month-end reporting by day three or less

Although many large organisations have made massive inroads into fast and accurate month-end reporting, the vast majority of finance teams around the world have month-end processes that are career limiting, to say the least.

- Learn better practices to help you complete the next month end within three working days
- Streamline processes through “post-it” re engineering and Kanban boards
- Quality assurance processes to give you quality error free reporting
- Longer term month-end reporting refinements.

Session 2: Day 1: 13:15 to 16.45pm Improving annual planning, forecasting and reporting

Annual budgeting and planning can be completed in two weeks provided we take a fresh look at the process. The only thing certain about annual planning is that it is wrong as soon as the ink has dried, so we need to get it wrong quicker.

Many management reports are merely memorandums of information. They arrive too late and are error prone and too detailed.

- One-page reports (A3 CEO Finance report, budget holder report, Board dashboard, daily and weekly formats)
- Implementing quarterly rolling forecasting
- Redesigning planning so the annual plan is completed in two weeks or less, and the budgets are set on a rolling basis.

RELEVANT TO NON ACCOUNTANTS

Session 3: Day 2: 8.45am to 12:30pm Unleashing innovation in your organisation and the finance team

There are two types of innovation to unleash in your organisation.

Gemba Kaizen innovation which focuses on the continual improvement of internal processes.

Blue Ocean innovation which focuses on moving the organisation away from the bloody red oceans of competition to more rewarding opportunities.

- You will be taken through, step by step, how to introduce these important processes into your finance team and organisation
- Learn from what Drucker, Collins, Hamel and Peters have said about innovation
- You will learn about successful innovations your fellow peers have witnessed in current and past organisations.

These courses can be run inhouse

These courses can be further tailored and delivered inhouse.

This is viable for 8 or more attendees.

What attendees have said about David

The three modules I attended were relevant to what I do as a finance professional and the group of companies I work for. With the theory came real life examples which included options for solutions – such as naming the tier 1 and 2 forecasting tools and hearing from people using them. Receiving the template handouts electronically post course was most useful. The topics were covered in an easy to absorb way. The group discussions and shared experiences were a great part of the course.

Andrew Collis,

Group Financial Controller, Carrfields Limited

I thought your presentations were outstanding; the best I've seen of that ilk for a long time and I've seen a few. You have great ideas and wonderful presentation skills.

Chris Hannan

Principal Consultant Inside Info Pty Ltd

Thank you again for the delivery of a fantastic workshop. It would be fair to say it was one of the few courses I have been on that I really enjoyed. You will be pleased to hear that we have already started the process of reengineering our month end processes.

Glenn Boyes

Group Financial Controller, Argenta Manufacturing Ltd

Thank you for the informative course you presented today. On one hand, it has confirmed that my ideas already implemented or planned in the next few months are the right way to go ahead to improve my finance team. However, the one aspect I am most encouraged by is that I feel that you have also challenged my way of thinking on areas I hadn't thought of changing and I will certainly look to implement a number of your approaches/ideas. So, thank you again.

Gaby Andrews,

Finance Director, Allgood plc

This workshop was the most interesting and engaging accounting course I have done in a long while... possibly ever!
